

Claims

- [c1] 1. Improved sound and vibration device in a motor vehicle electrical distribution box comprising a frame structure of the mentioned box (1) and a pressure fixing mechanism of the box (1), being this mechanism equipped with a support (2) and two anchor legs (6), which can be anchored to the vehicle by means of screws, characterized because the aforementioned structure of the distribution box is equipped with two tilting pivots (3) that are transversal to the lateral walls of the box, being said pivots ended in cams (4), while the mentioned support (2) is equipped with guides dimensioned to receive the tilting pivots (3) and to pressure fit the cams (4) in wings (5) provided in the aforementioned support guides (2).